Zara Home

With this concept, we want to share our vision of what an interaction with the most cozy and warm brand can look like.

We like the current experience, which is suitable for e-commerce sales, but we wanted to show it with a more aesthetic approach.

Xerox PARC

The idea of the project is to show where the modern devices familiar to us came from: from a computer mouse and the Ethernet, to tablets and ubiquitous computing.

This project is a tribute to the pioneers of the computer industry.

Sportlife

Sportlife is the largest network of fitness clubs in Ukraine, however, their website reeks of old age.

Our task was to show what kind of website an industry leader should have: clear, minimalistic and stylish.

Beeonis

Beeonis is a SaaS platform for automating online education business.

It allows you to create courses and conduct training around the world in a convenient and understandable interface.

Our task was to create a complete product: from research and strategy to development and launch.

ETU

Eurasian Technological University is the leading modern university of the Republic of Kazakhstan.

Our task was to develop branding and a website that would reflect the main values of the university: modernity, honesty, creativity and openness.

We mastered the task by creating a memorable logo, an exciting branding strategy and a modern website.
